

2007

Craig W. Jones

Class of 1974

Craig Jones is president of the Oklahoma Hospital Association, which represents 138 hospitals. From 1985 to 1997, he was president and CEO of Norman Regional Hospital, which under his leadership, grew and offered such regional services as cardiac surgery, neurosurgery, cancer management and community education.

He has served on numerous national and regional board and advisory councils, lectured or served as part-time faculty at several universities and has been recognized for his work in health care.

Additional degree: Master of Health Administration, Washington University School of Medicine, St. Louis

