

Raymond G. Wile

Class of 1956

After his Grove City College graduation, Raymond Wile worked for Armstrong Cork and later the NCH Company. In 1970, he co-founded the Dymon Chemical Company with sales in both the domestic and international markets. Wile served as president and obtained several patents that supported a line of more than 450 products. He sold the company in 1998 and retired to Williamsburg, Va.

Wile is a trustee with Fork Union Military Academy and recognized there as a Distinguished Alumnus.
