

Judith (Parker) Zenowich

Class of 1976

Judith Zenowich is executive project manager at Rutgers University, working on the state-mandated integration of schools and units of the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey into Rutgers. She shifted from the for-profit world into a non-profit career at Rutgers, initially as a fundraiser for the School of Social Work.

Zenowich made her mark in the world of financial services. She served as vice president–real estate project management for Bank One/IPMorgan Chase near New York City. Prior, she was senior vice president/director–design and construction at Salomon Smith Barney/Citigroup.

Throughout her career, she also held successful posts at Shearson Lehman Brothers, American Express and ITT Rayonier Inc.

Additional study: Pace University

